

Conference Sessions Have Been Arranged Beginning on Sunday, August the sixth Will Be Held At Hotel And Chateau.

Dr. Adam Burnet

Dr. Harris Kirk

Four outstanding protestant leaders have accepted invitations to speak at the Northfield August conference to be held here at the Northfield Hotel and Chateau August 6 to 13. These are the same dates announced for the General Conference, which was to have been held on the Northfield School campus but which was cancelled because of the serious shortage of experienced workers.

Dr. Adams Burnet of Scotland will give a series of addresses on "The Book of Revelation" Aug. 9, 10, and 11 at 10 a.m. in the Chateau, and Dr. Harris E. Kirk of Baltimore will speak on Aug. 7, 8, and 12 at the same time and place on "Plain Addresses on Great Themes".

Sunday services will be held at the Congregational church at 11 a.m. with Dr. John A. Redhead, Jr., minister of the Second Congregational church of Charlotte N. C., as preacher on Aug. 6, and Dr. Stuart Nye Hutchinson of East Liberty Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, on the 13th.

Several informal evening meetings will be held at the Chateau and these and other special features will be announced during the week from the platform.

Dr. Burnet was the featured speaker at the General Conference each summer from 1931 to 1937 and won a great following in this country during that period. In 1937 he was called to a very important pastorate — St. Cuthbert's church in Edinburgh with a membership of about 4,000. His four sons have been in the service since the outbreak of the war and the second eldest, Adam Jr., who was an RAF flying officer, was killed in February, 1941.

Dr. Kirk's General conference days began in 1917 when W. R. Moody brought him to Northfield as a featured speaker. He has attended the conference many times since in the same capacity and in 1926 was chairman in the absence of Mr. Moody. He was during one period a frequent speaker at the young men's student and the young women's conferences. He was moderator of the Southern Presbyterian church in 1928 and has been minister of the Franklin Street church of Baltimore since 1901. Dr. Kirk is one of Northfield's outstanding friends in southern church circles.

Dr. Hutchinson, in addition to his large pastorate also holds trusteeships in several important colleges, is the author of several books, and was, at one time, moderator of the Northern Presbyterian church. Dr. Redhead's church is also large and important and he is known as one of the outstanding younger churchmen of the south.

Town Hall Movies Committee Changes

The movies at the town hall being given Friday evenings will be continued under the personal direction of Gene Cullum and the committee previously in charge has concluded its responsibility, the members of which thank the public for their support of this well fare effort. Those who have given of their time and support were L. P. Goodspeed, Mrs. Mildred Addison, Gene Cullum and Harold Lord. The movies will continue, followed by the dances, but there must be an increasing patronage on the part of the public to warrant their continuance.

The Historical Society Has Fine Food Sale

Despite the threatening wetter and finally the downpour, the food sale by the members of the Historical Society Saturday, July 29 was well patronized and over $45 was realized. The opening of the museum on the same day was also characterized by the visits of many citizens and summer visitors. Miss Elsie Scott, the president of the organization, with a large group of officials and members were on hand to greet all. Featured in the exhibits were old time implements and articles of former industrial works, as the making of brooms, straw bonnets, palm leaf hats, felt hats, weaving of linen, cobbling, kitchen utensils, butter churns, wooden mortars and wooden water logs. There were old farm implements, such as plows feed cutter and wooden shovels.

Among recent gifts received and shown were a door bolt from Fort Connable in North Bernardston photos of Preceptor Osgood of the Academy for Useful Knowledge, which at one time flourished in the building now used as Bronson's Inn; broom making machinery, a Civil War soldiers uniform, and a desk and chair used by the late E. F. Howard for many years superintendent of schools. It is expected the Society will soon announce definite periods or days when the museum will be open for visitors.

CARD OF THANKS

The Northfield Historical Society and its committee for the food sale held last Saturday wishes to thank the donors for both money gifts and food.

The Committee, Mrs. Vorce and Mrs. Lazelle.

State Guard Company Has Been Disbanded

The Massachusetts State Guard company formed here as a special war provision has been disbanded by order and about fifteen of its members have been transferred to the Sixth Company at Greenfield. In its inception and organization the Guard Company received enthusiastic support and it held its weekly drills on Thursday evenings at the town hall. Many of our sons now in the service were former members. As drafting continued however, the ranks were depleted and it became necessary to transfer the members of the Bernardston Guard to the company here. The company engaged in several maneuvers and had practice in the open under its own officers. All uniforms and arms and property used by the local company have been turned in to the State.

Among the members of the Guard from Northfield who have transferred to the Greenfield company are, Robert P. Abbott, Vincent A. Campbell, Edward F. Kirwan, Alvin C. Porter, Looman R. Stowell.

Given Call As Pastor Congregational Church

Following the resignation of Rev. Edward C. Dahl as pastor of the local Congregational church to accept the call of the Congregational church in Brattleboro, the local congregation appointed a committee headed by Rev. Edward Fairbank to suggest a candidate for the vacancy. After considerable effort and conference the committee completed its work and its report was presented to the members of the local church at a special meeting following the morning service last Sunday, July 30. The committee offered the name of Rev. Walter G. Couch, Jr. pastor of the Congregational church at Ashfield and it was unanimously voted that a call be extended to him. The Rev. Mr. Couch was the preacher at the church last Sunday morning and a large audience were privileged to hear and greet him.

Ration Interest Items

All users of fuel oil who have not yet returned their 1944-45 renewal applications to the Rationing Board are requested to do so as soon as possible, or undergo unnecessary delay in receiving their rations for the coming year. These renewal applications were sent out in May by the board to everyone who uses oil for heating or hot water, and many are not yet returned to the board for processing.

Applicants for canning sugar who did not apply for any sugar for this purpose at the rationing board during the first period, which expired July 31st, may apply for the full amount needed for canning during the second period, August 1 to October 31. Those who received some during the first period, and find that they will need more, may request the additional amount up to a total of 20 pounds per person by means of a simple note to the rationing board.

Beginning August 1, the amendment 129 to the gasoline rationing program must be enforced by all boards. This requires the boards to issue supplemental rations for home-to-work driving for one month only to any driver who is not carrying sufficient riders in his car, if his eligibility for three months is not established.

This probationary ration is to give the applicant time to make a further attempt to form a ride-sharing arrangement. No additional supplemental rations are to be granted at the end of the probationary period unless the operator can present full and conclusive evidence to support his claim that he is unable to obtain a full quota of riders, and has failed through no fault of his own.

Declines Church Call

As the Press goes to print, it is learned that the Rev. Mr. Conch of Ashfield has decided to remain with his church in Ashfield to continue his work begun three years ago. He has therefore declined the call to come to Northfield.

Delphine Field Wedded At Holton Homestead

On the beautiful lawn of the historic Holton homestead Miss Delphine Elizabeth Field, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Field was wedded to Percy Raymond Deane, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Deane of Bernardston on Wednesday, July 19, by the Rev. Frederick Dixon. The bride was given in marriage by her father and her bridesmaid was Miss Helen Deane, sister of the groom. John Field a brother of the bride was best man. The single ring ceremony was used and Mrs. Mary Holton played the traditional wedding march.

The bride was dressed in a floor-length gown of white chiffon, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, and wore a fingertip veil of white net loaned to her by Mrs. Holton who wore it at her own wedding in 1901. The bridal bouquet consisted of white asters and baby's-breath tied with white satin ribbon. Her only adornment was a gold sweetheart bracelet, a gift of the groom, and a double strand of baby pearls.

The bridesmaid was dressed in a gown of pink chiffon, cut on lines similar to the bridal costume. She wore a pink shoulder-length veil and carried a bouquet of white asters tinted with pink and tied with blue satin ribbon. The mothers of the bride and groom wore light-blue street-length gowns with white accessories and each had a corsage of red roses.

After the ceremony a lunch was served at the home of the bride. The young couple left on a wedding trip and after his furlough he will return to his duty at sea. The bride is a graduate of Greenfield High School and the bridegroom graduated from Powers Institute in Bernardston.

Visitors At The Hostel

During the past week the Youth Hostel has had many interesting people among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Wang of China. Mr. Wang saw service in the first year of the Sino-Japanese war until, thru famine, he lost his health. He is now working in the Research Department at Columbia University where his wife is studying for her Doctor's degree in anthropology. Both expect to go back to China and hope to bring the opportunities of hosting to China. Edwin Chung, studying at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, also hosted here with friends. Hosting was also enjoyed by individuals from the Dominican Republic, Belgium and Great Britain.

Even family circles are getting the hosting fever as evidenced by the fact that five family groups stopped here during the week two groups of which were members of the clergy from Springfield, and Madison, Wisconsin. All were biking. Never a week goes by without men and women of the armed service taking advantage of the recreation that hosting gives to them.

Miss Hazel C. Tenney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Tenney of the Farms became the bride of Corp. Norman Kimball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kimball of Greenfield in Robbins Memorial church of Greenfield on Sunday afternoon July 23 with Rev. George K. Carter officiating in a double ring service. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ethel Fowler and the best man was Pfc. Percy Smart. The ushers were Donald Kimball and Charles Cummings.

Phillips House Burns On Manning Hill Road

The house owned by Paul E. Phillips, sr., on Manning Hill on the road to Winchester was completely destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning, July 26, and is a total loss, the amount of which had not been estimated. It is said the house was insured but not the contents. The fire was probably started in the garage section from a stove in which rubbish was being burned but when the Winchester fire department was called at nine o'clock the entire structure was ablaze and doomed because of lack of water. The nearby house of Mrs. Emma F. Phillips was saved although the barn on her place caught fire several times and was put out. In the burned Phillips house were living there, the family of Gordon Phillips, who is in the services, Paul Phillips jr., also in the services, Miss Eleanor Phillips and Miss Janet Phillips. The fire was discovered by a neighbor, Thaddeus Oliver who gave the alarm and assisted the occupants. Many were attracted by the flames and passing motorists stopped to lend aid. Although in the town of Winchester, the family have many friends in Northfield who regret the misfortune which has come to them.

Why Farmers Should Buy & Keep War Bonds

by R. R. Renne
President
Montana State College

BUILDING financial reserves, paying off debts, helping to fight dangerous inflation, and patriotism, are all good reasons why farmers should buy and hold War Bonds.

A good financial reserve is an important part of sound farm management. War Bonds are safe investments and are almost as liquid as cash. Thus, they comprise an excellent financial reserve for unexpected needs and emergencies. After the last war prices fell rapidly, as they have after every major war, and thousands of American farmers lost their farms because they could not weather the economic storm. No other factor is more essential for continued satisfactory farm operations, through good years and bad, than adequate financial reserves.

In addition to unexpected needs for emergencies, farmers need adequate reserves to finance repairs, replacements and improvements around the farm. Difficulties in obtaining needed materials and labor for these expenditures cause farm buildings and equipment to wear out faster during the war period than in peacetime. If farmers can wait until sometime after the war ends to make these repairs and improvements, their dollars should go farther than they will immediately following the war, and better quality materials will probably be available. Moreover, too rapid or forced cashing of War Bonds immediately after the war could create a serious situation and contribute to post-war inflation. Also, holding Bonds to maturity makes it possible for the farmer to increase his investment by one-fourth through accumulated interest. Still another reason for having a good reserve in the form of War Bonds is that funds will be available for the boys when they return, to assist them in getting established in peacetime pursuits.

Many farmers still have long-term mortgage debt outstanding against their property. Investment in War Bonds now makes it possible for the farmer to help finance the war and at the same time accumulate the funds which will enable him to liquidate his debt in a lump sum after the war. Systematic purchase of War Bonds furnishes a very orderly and sure way of accumulating the necessary funds for liquidation of debt that requires large lump sums for settlement.

The extremely heavy expenditures required to carry on modern total war creates high purchasing power, which combined with shortages of materials and labor, cause serious inflationary threats. Most farmers can remember the very high prices which occurred during the last war and the very low prices and depression which followed. With the present scale of operations much greater than during the first war, it is imperative that widespread inflation in general prices and in land be prevented. Using surplus funds to purchase War Bonds helps reduce inflationary pressure in commodity markets and, at the same time, helps finance the war.

Building financial reserves, paying off debts and fighting inflation, comprise adequate reasons for buying War Bonds. However, there is still another major reason why farmers should invest in War Bonds until it hurts and this is the patriotic reason. We are engaged in a very serious struggle to preserve democracy and our way of life. The sooner we can win this war the fewer lives of our sons and daughters will be lost. Our youth are making great sacrifices on the battlefronts all over the world, and it is up to each one of us on the homefront to give all we have. Large sums of money are needed for winning the war and if we will all buy War Bonds to the limit of our resources voluntarily, we can help finish the war at an early date.
